'HELLO, BILL,' IS JOYFUL HAIL TO 150,000 ELKS

Chicago Extends Its Official Welcome.

(Pictures on back page.) Those "Best People On Earth," the B. P. O. E., 150,000 strong, took Chicago yesterday to the tune of scores of hands and the glad greeting of "Hello, Bill," and the city offered no defense. Last night at a great mass meeting in the Auditorium theater Martin J. O'Brien, city controller and representative of Mayor Dever, told them why.

"Chicago is proud," he said, "that your great and distinguished order chose our city for your sixty-second annual meeting place. I am sure I voice the sentiments of the three millions we have here when I tell you that everything will be done to help make your six day stay the most pleasant possible."

"When you have looked our city over you will be bound to concede that Chicago's spirit of 'I Will' is more dominant today than ever before in its history. We are fortunate in becoming the central home of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks and will continually cherish the faith you have reposed in us."

Elks Tell Regard for Chicago. To this warm welcome, the grand exalted ruler of the Elks, Judge William Hawley Atwell of Dallas, Tex., replied: "This displayed regard that has greeted our body is not one-sided—the Elks love Chicago. Here, years ago, was fixed the permanent headquarters of the organization. Here has been erected the marble war memorial to our immortal brothers. Here, in this typically American city—big, brave, fearless and energetic—there is a congenial atmosphere."

"Expressions, gestures and words have been used throughout the years to express joy to the arriving guest. The welcome visitor need not be a judge of human nature, not a sophisticated member of society, to understand that busy men and women do not spend money, and time, and breath, and music, and oratory, and wit, and poetry in expressing a welcome unless they feel it."

"May I ask this splendidly representative multitude a question? Then, why is it that the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, in its great annual reunion, is so warmly welcomed wherever it goes?"

Unselfishness Is Elks' Ideal. Judge Atwell then answered his own question by paying tribute to the precepts of the order.

"The Elks is not a political order," he said. "It is not a religious order. It is not a selfish order. It takes thought neither of ambitions, nor successes, nor riches."

"It knows the fire of love. It lives for the future. It is the society of the sincere and seeks deliverance from the selfish; the society of service seeking deliverance from selfishness."

"Its philosophy is for men. It is grateful for life, for opportunity, for nation, and for every adversity that makes men stronger."

"It is because of these loves, beliefs and attributes that Chicago is generous in both preparation and welcome."

Presiding Judge Atwell's address, Alexander Wolf, Exalted Ruler of Chicago lodge No. 4, spoke on the local aspect of the convention and wished the visitors well, telling them every Elk in Chicago was standing ready to do all in his power to be of help.

Sinek Presides at Meeting.

William J. Sinek, general chairman of the convention committee and grand exalted ruler of the order nationally, presided at the meeting which was the first public gathering of the session. The glee club of Milwaukee lodge No. 46 sang several selections during the program.

During the day, which was devoted largely to the reception and registering of delegations, special trains discharged an almost constant stream of visitors from all parts of the country into the city.

They came from every state in the union, and the purple and white hat bands surmounting the brows of the visitors moving up and down loop streets presented a roll call of cities and towns throughout the nation.

Many delegates wore the habiliments of their native communities as they warmed the streets in the vicinity of the Congress hotel headquarters. More than 100 Texans in woolly chaps, red shirts, four gallon sombreros, and long-barreled shotguns invaded the lobby of that hostelry once during the day and started the more decorous delegates with a rousing yell accompanied

14 Men, Worth 100 Million Unite to Give

San Francisco, Cal., July 12.—(AP)—Fourteen of San Francisco's wealthiest men, representing fortunes in excess of $100,000,000, today formed a community foundation, under which millions of the surplus wealth of the families will be donated to the benefit of the community.

Each of the members of the new organization will make specific gifts for charitable, scientific, and educational purposes, and a self-perpetuating board of trustees will be formed to handle bequests after a donor's death.

Charles W. Merrill was appointed chairman with instructions to name a committee to make a study of the Rockefeller and the Russell Sage Foundations and all other leading community funds operating in American cities.

The call for today's meeting was issued by Merrill, William H. Crocker, banker and Republican national committeeman from California; Mortimer Fleischacker, banker and member of the board of regents of the University of California; Paul Shoup, railroad executive and member of the board of trustees of Stanford University; Clay Miller, merchant and former president of the chamber of commerce here.

AL SMITH TO BE COOLIDGE GUEST AT SUMMER CAMP

Paul Smith's, N. Y., July 12.—(AP)—Gov. Al Smith of New York has found it impossible to accept the invitation of President Coolidge to visit him at White Pine camp early this week, and as a result the invitation was renewed tonight for Friday.

Mr. Coolidge devoted today to fishing. Evidencing a keen enthusiasm for the sport, which he had forsaken since boyhood, he went in the morning to Lake Ogeedog, on the shore of which, the summer White House is situated, and pulled out a fine six pound pike, measuring 20 inches.

Then in the afternoon he went 12 miles from the camp to the preserve of the late William Rockefeller, now owned by Col. Benjamin B. McAlpin of New York, John McDonald of Utica, and others, and hauled out five brook trout, averaging half a pound each, in three hours.

Romeo of Rags Wins Heart of Suburban Wife

Ragged but romantic, Joseph Stockner, 19 years old and personable, stopped last Thursday at the home of Jack Lankford, 1012 North 15th avenue, Melrose Park, and begged a hand-out.

He got it. He got more. Lankford gave him a bed to sleep in, a suit to go out in, a job to work at, and $2 for spending purposes.

But prosperity pulled on Joe at the end of two days. It was no longer necessary for him to panhandle food.

Elopes With Mrs. Lankford. He turned to the more pleasant business of panhandling love from Mrs. Geneva Lankford, the 23 year old wife of the Samaritan. And at that, too, he was successful as he had been at mooching bread and meat.

Mrs. Lankford packed a grip. She washed the faces of her daughters, Eva and Sheila, 3 and 4 years old. Stockner took Lankford's best suit. Then the wife and the once ragged stranger and the little girls went away.

Lankford, arriving home Saturday night discovered that $70 of his money had gone with the elopers. He set out on the trail. Yesterday he found the little girls at the home of Jack Landers, 1143 West Adams street, where the couple had left them.

He took the youngsters home and at the Melrose Park police station swore to warrants charging Stockner with larceny and his wife with child abandonment.

Men Fight, Women Flees. Again he took up the search. Last evening he found Mrs. Lankford and Stockner at Madison and Franklin streets. There ensued a battle between the men, while Mrs. Lankford, the cause of the trouble, fled in a taxi cab. A crowd collected and Policeman John Fried arrested both men.

Lankford's story, however, won his release and Stockner was taken back to Melrose Park.

CAILLAUX SIGNS FOR PARIS; GETS LONDON CREDITS

Base Deal on Berlin Payments, Belief.

BY DON SKENE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

(Copyright 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.) LONDON, July 12.—France, through its field marshal of finance, Joseph Caillaux, signed a definite debt funding agreement this evening with Great Britain, represented by Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill.

The finance ministers announced they would make public the agreement simultaneously in the house of commons and chamber of deputies tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

"The agreement is signed. That is all I can say now," Mr. Churchill said after shaking hands warmly with Mr. Caillaux at the British treasury, where the signatures were affixed. "It is a satisfactory agreement from the British point of view. Personally, I believe it is most satisfactory," he added.

Politics Figures In Pact. Later, at the French embassy, the dapper, dynamic M. Caillaux, bubbling with high spirits, told THE TRIBUNE he had reached a complete understanding with Mr. Churchill but he was pledged to secrecy to the final terms until tomorrow.

"I have enjoyed my visit in London very much—at least as much as any man can who has signed something that is not very agreeable," the French finance wizard and noted diplomatic poker player added.

After his arrival by airplane, delayed by the fog, M. Caillaux was rushed to the French embassy where he lunched with the French ambassador, M. Fleuryan, Foreign Minister Chamberlain, and Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill.

Mr. Chamberlain's presence was considered significant as showing the debt question is held in London as of political as well as financial importance.

Announcement Completion of Deal. The two finance ministers, with their experts, were closeted until 6:15 p. m. in the French embassy. They then proceeded to the treasury for a further conference. They emerged with the announcement that they had "reached a complete agreement on the outstanding points in connection with funding the French war debt to Britain and had signed an agreement on behalf of their respective governments."

It is generally believed that today's conference was largely a formality, and that the agreement was practically arranged before M. Caillaux left Paris on his flying trip to London. It is pointed out that Mr. Churchill announced early this afternoon that he would present the text of the agreement tomorrow, which he could not have done at that stage in today's proceedings unless the agreement had been practically certain of its acceptance.

The final funding pact is based on the Caillaux-Churchill agreement made here last August, when France's payments on the 600,000,000 pounds ($3,000,000,000) debt were placed at 12,000,000 pounds ($60,000,000) annually over a period of sixty-two years.

Based on Germany's Payments. The two primary questions often slyly discussed this afternoon were, first, graduation of France's early payments, and, second, the understanding that if the Germans defaulted at any time in their reparations payments to France, France might also default to Britain.

Some political observers believe this safeguard clause may not appear flatly in the agreement, but there will be an understanding that if Germany defaults, France can reopen the funding negotiations, based on such new conditions.

Mr. Churchill and M. Caillaux are also understood to have discussed the immediate return to France of 500,000,000 gold francs ($100,000,000) held in deposit by the Bank of England and the extension of credits to France by the Bank of England.

Hopes to Curt France's Fall. M. Caillaux will leave London at 9 o'clock tomorrow for Paris to attend an important meeting of leading French generals and other army leaders. He will face the chamber of deputies in the afternoon.

When asked if today's debt agreement would curb the falling of the franc, M. Caillaux said to THE TRIBUNE correspondent, "I sincerely hope so."

Asked if the debt accord would be such as would evoke an attack by his (Continued on page 3, column 3.)

'L' Roads Offer Wage Cut as Raise Is Asked

Something more than a refusal was contained in the answer yesterday of the Chicago Rapid Transit company to the demand of the "L" employees union for a wage increase of 5 cents an hour and other concessions. The company suggested, instead, a reduction of 5 cents an hour and revocation of concessions already obtained.

The wage parley took place in the office of Bernard J. Fallon, vice president of the elevated roads. John J. Bruce, president, and William McClenahan, secretary of the local union, with a committee, conferred for several hours with road officials in Mr. Fallon's office.

Want War Peak Wages. The wage agreement expired June 1. Under it the motormen were receiving 77 cents an hour and conductors 72. They were asking the wage they had during the war high peak, which was reduced in 1923 by 10 cents an hour and since increased by 5 cents an hour.

When the conference was over the union representatives were obviously displeased. They said there would be other conferences and from both sides came assurances that there is no immediate prospect of a strike. The union men are willing to arbitrate for a raise, but not a possible reduction.

The company defined the demands as for "5 cents an hour wage increase, group insurance of $1,000 for each employee, the premiums to be paid in full by the company, and a weekly sick benefit of $20 for all employees affected by the contract." The company proposed to arbitrate whether the wage should remain as at present or be reduced 5 cents.

Surface Line Men Want. The surface line employees were reported to be awaiting the outcome of the "L" employees negotiations before they press their demand for a similar increase. It is understood the surface men will be met with a refusal of their demands similar in tone to the reply of the elevated company. The North Shore Line employees, with a request for a 5 cent an hour increase, negotiate today with the company.

WIFE DROWNED IN MYSTERY AT SUMMER RESORT. Mrs. D. P. Washburn, 30 years old, of River Forest was drowned yesterday in Lake Katherine, west of Antioch, Ill.

drive them away in the sedan. Rose was unable to do it. So they started away in the taxicab. At 51st court and 14th street, Chicago, when, according to McWane, Rose, clad only in his underwear, made a dive for the sidewalk. "Eddie" fired and fatally wounded him. The stolen taxi broke traffic rules and was pursued by a silver squad from the DuSable avenue station until it upset in front of 4950 West Jackson boulevard. McWane was pinned beneath it.

The other man fled down a passage way, but his gun, with the clip filled with ammunition, was found. In the back seat of the taxi was found another clip, also filled with bullets, while one bullet was found in McWane's pocket, along with his 15 envelopes, containing the collection at the evening service which Hein and Miss Blang had attended. Hein was the church treasurer. Miss Blang taught Sunday school.

In McWane's pockets were collection envelopes which Hein as treasurer of the church had taken with him after the Sunday services, to be deposited on Monday.

The relatives of the three murder victims appeared yesterday at the inquest to give a few official facts regarding their dead kinsmen.

Miss Blang's father, Jacob Ekang, and her sister, Bertha, came in place of her mother, who was at home prostrated with sorrow.

"My sister was a wonderful girl," Bertha Blang said, and she was crying as she said it. "She was graduated from the McKinley High school with honors. Then she studied stenography and became a private secretary. She has had the same position for seven years, and was getting ahead so well."

"She taught Sunday school for years and was so faithful about it."

2 LIFERS SEEK COMMUTATIONS OF SMALL TODAY
Two Chicago felons, both serving life sentences, will seek commutations from Gov. Small today at the session of the board of pardons and paroles in Springfield.

Joseph Chapman, convicted of the murder of Orville H. Travis, president of the Fidelity Portraiture company, during a holdup in 1915, is one of the applicants. The other is A. Poole, convicted of rape.

Only twelve cases appear on the docket for consideration today, a number described as extremely light, and ascribed to the high feeling in the state against the policy of the state pardon and parole administration.

Wife Missing, Tries Suicide; Is Rescued
An attempt yesterday by Eric Johnson, 8111 Escanaba avenue, to drown himself in the Chicago river at Throop street, was frustrated by Policemen Frederick Quirin and Frank Leonard. At the Psychopathic hospital Johnson said he had been dependent since the disappearance of his wife three weeks ago.

POWERS ABANDON RIGHT TO TRY OWN CITIZENS IN CHINA

Chinese Get Full Control of Mixed Courts.

BY JOHN POWELL.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SHANGHAI, July 12.—About 100 foreign lawyers, including twenty-five Americans, stand to lose their chief source of livelihood as a result of the surrender of foreign control of the international mixed court to Chinese jurisdiction, according to a report published today. Negotiations of more than a year between the consular governing body and the Chinese authorities were practically concluded last week. The withdrawal, it is said, embraces all China. This accomplishment is the most forward step China has taken in this century.

An official announcement is not yet available, but it is authoritatively stated that the surrender of foreign jurisdiction is complete, giving the Chinese complete control of all cases between Chinese and where Chinese are the defendants. Foreign lawyers will not be permitted to appear, practically limiting their activities to consular courts.

Chinese Propose New Court.
The Chinese propose the creation, instead of a mixed court of the new Shanghai district court, under the jurisdiction of the provincial authorities, subject to the ratification of the Peking government and diplomatic body.

The foreign attorneys at a mass meeting this afternoon declared the rendition of the courts vitally lessens the position of the foreign residents, since it grants the Chinese the right to search foreign premises upon the sanction of foreign consuls.

Chinese Lawyers Elated.
The international mixed court has been under foreign control since the Chinese revolution of 1911, and has been known as one of the busiest courts in the world, since it handles all cases arising in the districts containing the foreign populations. It had been a bonanza for foreign lawyers, since no appeal was available and it provided a practical monopoly on the settlement of civil cases involving millions of dollars. The Chinese lawyers, mostly American educated, are highly elated, since they fall heir to a large legal business.

Prices realized on Swift & Company's sale of carcasses held in Chicago for west ending Saturday, July 10, on shipments sold out, were as follows: Cows, Common to Good, 10.00 cents to 14.00 cents; Steers, Common to Medium, 13.50 cents to 16.00 cents; Steers, good to choice, 15.50 cents to 18.00 cents; total sales, 14.01 cents per pound.—Adv.

ANGLO-FRENCH FINANCE CHIEFS SIGN DEBT PACT

Based on Payments by Germany, Belief.

opposition, M. Caillaux replied, "Parliamentary opposition is the same all over the world. Tomorrow British opposition parties will say that Mr. Churchill has signed an unsatisfactory agreement. At the same time, the French opposition probably will be saying I signed an unsatisfactory agreement."

Insiders in political circles today said the real instigator of the Caillaux visit to London was Henry Poyanne, French financial attaché in London, who faced the necessity of making the payments due to Britain at the end of July, which, apparently, the French treasury was incapable of meeting without fresh credits, which the Bank of England refused to extend unless the debt question was settled.

It is understood that M. Poyanne, risking his personal career, went to the British treasury and started new negotiations leading to the so-called experts' agreement, which both sides considered practicable. With this document in his pocket, M. Poyanne went to Paris and persuaded M. Caillaux to come here.

The British government was very anxious to have some constructive document to show parliament and Mr. Churchill forced the cabinet to accept the terms of the Poyanne agreement. The French ambassador in London intervened with Minister Chamberlain at the proper moment, expressing a need of strengthening the Anglo-Saxon entente cordiale. This argument was particularly effective in view of fears here of Germany's growing influence in Paris.

Francs 40 for $1.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, July 12.—The franc took a terrific tumble today, losing a full two francs on the dollar. Experts in Paris attribute the sudden drop to the varying reports concerning the Franco-British debt settlement, which is expected to strengthen French currency. French francs were thrown on the market by the Belgian treasury to buoy up the Belgian franc, which dropped at a dizzy rate.

American tourists who bought francs at 28 francs and 25 centimes to the dollar this morning, gnashed their teeth when the banks paid 38 francs and 87 centimes at 3 o'clock, and almost had heart failure when they saw the franc quoted at 40 francs and 90 centimes to the dollar at 5:30.

Playing the exchange is the greatest indoor sport for American tourists, who are arriving by the thousands on every ship, and most of whom would rather spend 20,000 francs at a Deauville than lose 20 centimes on the dollar in a $10 investment.

ROB SALESMAN OF $80,000 JEWELS IN LOOP HOTEL

Hunt Vincent Drucci as Suspect.

Jewelry valued at $80,000 was reported stolen yesterday from Wilbur R. Brown, president of a New York jewelry concern, and in a few hours police were searching for Vincent "Schemer" Drucci, Peter Gusenberg, Frank Gusenberg, and "Piggy" White.

Brown was in his room in the Congress hotel, he said, when three men entered and robbed him of his jewelry and left him bound and gagged. He gave a meager description of the trio and was at once taken to the bureau of identification to look at pictures of jewel thieves.

Sergts. Frank Johnson and William Croft were in the neighborhood of the Congress hotel at about the time of the robbery, which Brown fixed at 9:15 a. m. They remembered having seen Drucci near the hotel.

Then Rex T. Herson, an elevator operator at the hotel, identified pictures of Drucci and the Gusenbergs as men he carried in the hotel elevator at about the time given for the robbery.

Brown came to Chicago from Milwaukee last Friday and put his jewel grip in the hotel safe, but withdrew it yesterday morning and took it to his room. He said the loss is fully protected by insurance.

Drucci, when he learned late last night that he was sought by the police, informed The Tribune that he would give himself up to Captain of Detectives Stage at 10 o'clock this morning and face all witnesses to the robbery.

"If I can get in touch with the others mentioned as suspects," he said, "I will have them appear at the same time."

Drucci admitted he had met Detective Johnson and Croft on Michigan avenue, but said he rarely goes on the street without meeting some policeman he knows. For some time he has been identified with anti-prohibition industry as one of the leaders of the gang organized by the late Dean O'Banion.

'HELLO, BILL,' IS GLAD GREETING TO 150,000 ELKS

by the popping of scores of blank cartridges, fired at the ceiling.

Numerous bands, almost every delegation has at least one, serenaded boulevard-goers during the day with impromptu concerts, all ending with the national anthem.

When registration booths in the city hall and Congress hotel closed last night, the elks had registered 17 past grand exalted rulers and approximately 2,200 past exalted rulers of subordinate lodges, who will make up, with the regular delegates, the body of the first business session this morning.

At 10 a. m. the convention will meet at the Auditorium to hear reports from the grand exalted ruler, Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson, Grand Treasurer John K. Burch, the national memorial headquarters commission, and various other committees, who will tell of the year's work of the order. Following that the election of officers for the coming year will be held. Charles H. Grakel, commissioner of public welfare of Philadelphia, will be placed in nomination for the post of grand exalted ruler by his mayor, W. Freeland Kendrick. Faced with no opposition, his election is predicted.

$2,370,200 for welfare. Of special interest in today's session is the report of the social and community welfare committee, which has charge of the disbursing of a great fund for public good each year. Their bound and voluminous document, made public yesterday, shows a total fund of $2,370,199.44, contributed by the local lodges, paid out last year.

Aside from their cash contributions to worthy and needy persons and organizations, the report shows the committee found employment for 5,647 unemployed during the year and assisted 1,845 aliens to become naturalized citizens.

Public playgrounds, camps for poor children, fuel and rent for needy families, and the Boy Scouts, medical work, Thanksgiving baskets, hospital donations, and public relief work were the principal beneficiaries of the large fund.

Today begins the convention in earnest. Aside from the importance of the business session, three big entertainment events are scheduled on the program arranged by Ald. Guy C. Wernsey, chairman of the committee. At 10 a. m. five large balloons will

The 17 past grand exalted rulers in attendance at the convention occupied seats of honor at the public reception in the Auditorium last night.

The Congress hotel yesterday, with the influx of western delegates, took on the atmosphere of Cripple Creek, Colo., in its golden days.

Philadelphia's delegation of 200, led by their mayor, arrived at the Union station yesterday and headed by their own band, went direct to the Palmer house. Their big job at the convention, they say, is seeing to it that Charles H. Grakel is elected grand exalted ruler today.

Washington's delegation led by J. E. Lynch arrived at the Union depot at 9 a. m. and went to the Sherman hotel escorted by the Chicago lodge band.

Considerable speculation as to how "Hello, Bill," the Elks' greeting, originated, is heard at the Congress. One version is that this salutation was inaugurated by Garry Herrmann at a Cincinnati convention a score of years ago.

Notes of the Elks' Convention

Mayor W. Freeland Kendrick of Philadelphia was guest of honor at a luncheon given by members of the Hamilton club yesterday. More than 250 were present to hear him speak briefly of the sesquicentennial exposition, of which he is president. At the conclusion he paid tribute to President Coolidge and predicted his reelection in 1928.

Ex-Gov. John K. Tener of Pennsylvania will speak to the Central Lions' club today at a luncheon at the Hamilton club. Years ago Mr. Tener played baseball in Chicago under "Cap" Anson.

The Chattanooga delegation brought two bands. The junior, made up of boys, numbers 55, and senior band, composed of lodge members, 35. John M. Menafee led the outfit in a parade from the Park row station.

BACKBONE OF N. Y. SUBWAY STRIKE SEEMS BROKEN

New York, July 12.—[Special.]—The backbone of the subway strike on the Interborough system appeared to be broken today.

Ninety of the strikers returned to work, while but seven recruits were obtained by the strikers. The men who returned were motormen and switchmen, and the new strikers were power house employees.

Gratified at the response to his combination plea and ultimatum to the men, Frank Hedley, president of the L. R. T., extended until noon tomorrow the period in which the men could return to work without loss of seniority. After noon tomorrow all who return must start at the bottom again.

Five hundred and twenty-two of the motormen and switchmen who started the strike by organizing the Consolidated Railway Workers' union in opposition to the Interborough brotherhood are still on strike.

ARSENAL PERIL BELIEVED PAST; FIRES DYING OUT

20 Known Dead, 10 to 15
Missing; Scores Hurt.

Dover, N. J., July 12.—[Special.]—After seventeen bodies had been taken from the ruins of the naval ammunition depot at Lake Denmark today, the fire which has raged since Saturday afternoon reached a new stage. Three other bodies, found earlier, brought the total of known dead to twenty. From ten to fifteen are still missing.

Fourteen inch shells began to fly again. The searching parties were ordered out of the 500 acre arsenal. With a stiff wind fanning the flames, it was feared that the horror of last Saturday afternoon would be renewed, but the fire died down and it was believed tonight that the danger was past.

The magazine in which the big shells were exploding today is one of a group of sixteen which escaped from the fire and explosions which destroyed more than 150 buildings.

Army Group Imperiled.
Of all the buildings in the navy arsenal this group is closest to the Picaresque arsenal of the army. The torpedo bomb magazine of the arsenal is only a few hundred yards away. If this group of navy magazines were destroyed, the blast might set off the army magazines in which $35,000,000 worth of explosives and projectiles are stored.

"There has been an unfortunate shift in the wind," said Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, commandant of the Third naval district, after a survey of the ruins. "There is danger of another magazine going up. All men have been ordered out for the time."

Later tonight, however, Gen. Hugh A. Drum announced that, in his opinion, the danger of further great explosions had passed. He said officers and men had reentered the ruins of the naval depot and found the fire was rapidly subsiding. He said he was sure the new danger was over.

Marines then reentered the ruins and resumed search for bodies.
Died Answering Duty Call.
Only two of the bodies recovered earlier were identified at the scene. One was that of Pharmacist's Mate Harry Christian Brown. The second was that of Maurice R. Hardacker of Galloway, Florida, a marine. Seven others were identified at the Brooklyn navy yard later. Four of the bodies were fragmentary.

The position of the seventeen bodies showed that the men had been wiped out by the first great explosion in the depth bomb factory, while they were in the face of almost certain death, answering the call to fight the flames which the lightning had caused and when the fire whistle was still being sounded by Capt. O. C. Dowling, the commandant. In fact, it was in this first great explosion that most of the lives were lost.

Brief Service Over Seventeen.

A brief religious service was held at the gates of the arsenal where the seventeen men had lost their lives. After being wrapped in sheets and placed in ambulances, prayers were said by Father Martin and Chaplain Swan, both from Fort Jay. A party of marines stood at attention. Officers saluted and civilians stood with uncovered heads.

Reverend of the injured lists showed today that in addition to the great number of unidentified who received first aid at or near the scene for minor hurts there were fifty-nine still in hospitals and that no fewer than 110 others had received hospital treatment.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, after an extended visit to the devastated arsenal grounds, said that all known precautions against such a catastrophe had been taken by the navy department. The exact cause of the disaster will be taken up by the naval inquiry, which, he said, had been ordered.

Rear Admiral Campbell, judge advocate of the navy, reached here a short time after Secretary Wilbur had made his inspection.

"Witnesses have told me that the explosion was caused by a bolt of lightning striking one of the magazines," Secretary Wilbur said. "I cannot say whether the magazines were equipped with lightning conductors, but I can say that, so far as is known, it was as well protected against such hazard as was humanly possible."

When told that residents of Dover had prepared to petition to the navy department protesting against the rebuilding of the arsenal, and also that officials of New Jersey had declared themselves as opposed to having the arsenal within the state confines, Secretary Wilbur said that he was not in a position now to make any statement on that question.

Word was received yesterday by Mrs. Mary Mathis, 2138 North Spaulding avenue, that her son George, a private at the navy munitions depot at Lake Denmark, N. J., had escaped alive from the explosion. Whether or not he was injured, the dispatch did not state.

THINK DURAND HAD PLANS TO ESCAPE PRISON

Joliet, Ill., July 12.—[Special.]—That Jack Durand, foster son of Mrs. Scott Durand of Lake Forest, serving a three to twenty year term in the penitentiary here for robbery, may have planned to escape by sawing his way through the bars of his cell, is one of the theories prison officials were investigating today following the discovery of a supply of sugar, lard, a canned heat preparation, and extra bed sheets in his cell.

Saws for cutting steel bars have been made by convicts by filing teeth in knives or shear blades and then tempering them in hot grease.

The escape theory, however, is discounted by prison officials. Young Durand has been placed in solitary confinement as a result of the discovery of contraband material in his cell.

Democratic Pot Found as Black as Republican Kettle

Thievery of votes among the Democrats of Chicago, comparable with the frauds exposed in the Republican ranks, was brought to light yesterday when the election commissioners dug into Democratic ballot boxes and recounted the votes found within.

Thus the election chicanery has become unanimous, covering all the great party factions, and the April primary has come, in the view of the election commissioners, to be marked for history as an epic of crooked electioneering, and a mockery of the old-fashioned idea that the citizens select their officials by the ballot. It also, according to the same authorities, demonstrated the contempt into which the primary system in Chicago has fallen.

Only 12 precincts of the Democratic vote were recounted, but they revealed that thirteen candidates of the old-guard Democrats, led by George E. Brennan, had been given a total of 3,927 stolen votes. And five candidates, supported by the defendant Dunne-Harrison-O'Connell banner, were cheated of 624 votes they had earned. Which brought the total thievery in behalf of the regulars to 4,551 votes.

Report Indictments Today.
Meanwhile, punishment seems to be looming for some of the crooked election clerks and judges, for it was reported from the special vote fraud grand jury room that indictments will be returned today, naming some 25 clerks and judges on charges of conspiracy to commit election frauds, and for the frauds themselves.

Where evidence has been uncovered of deliberate steals, such as characterized the notorious 20th ward (the Eller ward), where a deal to sell out the votes to certain Republican primary candidates was exposed, all five of the judges and clerks in each of the several precincts investigated have been indicted, it was reported.

Incidentally, it was again the notorious 20th ward in which the Democratic thievery was uncovered, the recounted precincts being the first eleven and the 24th of the ward.

G. O. P. Fraud Toll Mounts.
The ever mounting toll of fraud and error in the Republican recount rose, with the completion of the recount in 118 precincts, to a total of 177,827 false votes, stolen, cheated, or mistaken. Of these 129,393 were classed as losses by the candidates, and 48,434 as gains.

Judge William L. Morgan again climbed ahead in the recount, leading Assistant State's Attorney Robert E. McMillan, who had been awarded the last winning place on the Municipal judge ticket, by a scant 121 votes.

How the Democratic thievery was exposed is shown in the following table, which reveals that every candidate favored by the Brennan forces, indicated by the initial "B," got stolen votes:

Contests were filed by Robert J. Dunne, who is a son of former Gov. Dunne, and by James Danaher, Dunne was defeated for board of review on the official returns by more than 72,000 votes.

Capt. Ramsey, I. N. G., Is Held to U. S. Grand Jury

Capt. Ralph Ramsey, former commander of the Thirty-third division's tank company at Evanston, yesterday was held by United States Commissioner James R. Glass in bonds of $2,500 on charges of padding the corps pay roll $150 a month for two years.

Capt. Ramsey explained that he had been unable to employ a mechanic and had to do the work himself. He held that for this reason he was entitled to the pay allotted for the purpose.

MORE FACTORIES DECLARED GREAT NEED OF IOWA

Required to Absorb Labor
Released from Farms.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Council Bluffs, Ia., July 12.—(Special.)—More factories are deemed one of Iowa's great needs. The corn belt is shipping out hogs and shipping back hams and bacon. More beef hides are produced here than in any other state except Texas, but the hides go more than a thousand miles east and Iowa buys part of them back from New England in the form of shoes, the buyer, of course, paying the freight both ways. Much stuff goes out in bulk and comes back in cans. For Iowa's 212,000 farm experts say, each year $15,000,000 of fertilizer alone is imported from other states that might just as well be made in Iowa.

One estimate is that Iowa spends yearly perhaps $75,000,000 in buying finished goods brought into the state from outside which originally went from the state as raw materials. The real figure may be higher; the data being far from complete, and it's only guesswork.

Machinery Works Changes.

It all seems to be part and parcel of the agrarian problem. Factories are growing; industry is diversified and the state has 600 cities and towns where manufacturing is carried on. But it is not keeping pace with the growing efficiency in agriculture. One interesting phenomenon in Iowa is this: Labor saving devices on the farm are releasing labor from agriculture, it appears, faster than it is absorbed by the manufacturing industries of the state. One machine alone, the corn husker, in the last four years has displaced 19,200 men who husked in the old fashioned way. Farm machinery is rapidly increasing. More than 77,000 tractors are on Iowa farms today and power farming is growing fast. There is nearly one automobile to every farm in the state and 19,000 auto trucks on farms, and 30,169 homesteads have lighting plants.

Surplusage of Workers.

One sees the effect in the towns and cities. There is no apparent farm labor shortage, but rather a surplusage of workers in the hamlets who used to put in the summer in the fields. The state employment office reports three or four applicants for every job available. Experienced, all the year around hands are in good demand and get good wages—single hands, $45 to $50 a month with keep, married couples $45 to $60. But the casual worker is in less and less demand, except in the rush season, and spitting labor which now follows the harvest northward from Kansas to Canada in fivers.

finds that machinery is lessening the labor demand every year. Here's a significant fact: for three decades the number of folks actually on the farm in Iowa has been decreasing, but at the same time production has been increasing prodigiously. For instance, during the last fifteen years corn production in the United States has increased at the rate of about six million bushels a year. Of this, Iowa has contributed 5,000,000 bushels.

Small Town Problem.

The small town is a growing problem—the United States census lists communities of less than 2,500 as rural regions—and a movement is on to bring industries in for the benefit of the cities and towns, both large and small, and for the farmer himself in a larger local market. One increasing need is for a better balance between industries and agriculture inside the state.

Nearly 75 per cent of the population lives in towns and hamlets of less than 2,500—rural territory. Here is the way this agricultural state, which the United States census lists as 84 per cent ruralized, is split up: 41 per cent. In towns of less than 2,500 population, 543,737. Urban population—in cities of over 2,500—875,495, or 36.4 per cent.

Power Available Everywhere.

The industry boosters point out that Iowa now has an abundance of electrical energy with high tension wires, 10,000 miles of them, running almost everywhere in the state, so that plant power is available anywhere one might put up a factory. The labor situation has its attractions. A recent study by John E. Brindley and Truman W. Manning of Iowa State college at Ames showed that in letters from manufacturers in all parts of the state no complaint was made of the labor supply, both skilled and unskilled. Nearly all the letters dwell on the advantages of the small town as a manufacturing center, especially from the viewpoint of contented, efficient, home owning workers. Some of the manufacturers said the labor situation as compared with conditions in the big industrial centers more than counteracted any additional cost of transporting raw material into the state, especially in highly specialized industries where such freight costs are not a large part of the production costs.

Wages vary from place to place. The building trades and the printing trades are well organized. Bricklayers get $1.50 an hour in Des Moines and $1.25 in Clinton. Carpenters get $1.05 in Cedar Rapids and $1.15 in Des Moines and Davenport.

Farm Group to Meet.

Des Moines, Ia., July 12.—Repeated assertions by mid-west farm leaders after the defeat of the McNary bill that the fight for agricultural relief legislation is just beginning culmination today in the announcement by Governor John Hammond of Iowa that a second corn belt conference will be convened in Des Moines next Monday and Tuesday.

Two organizations will meet here to form plans for continuing the corn belt campaign and to voice anew the mid-west's protests against the attitude manifested by congress at its last session.

Governor Hammond also announced that he will support the presidential candidacy of former Governor Frank O. Lowden in case Mr. Lowden decides to enter the race.

K. C. STAR AND TIMES ARE SOLD; $11,000,000 PAID

Kansas City, July 12.—(49)—Sale of the Kansas City Star and Times to the present management, for years associated with Col. W. R. Nelson, founder of the newspapers, was announced tonight by the trustees of the William Rockhill Nelson trust.

The successful bid for the properties was submitted by a group headed by Irwin Kirkwood, present editor of the Star and son-in-law of Mr. Nelson, and A. F. Seested, for years general manager of the newspapers. This assures the control of the paper for the future in hands trained by Col. Nelson and sympathetic with his ideals. It is what a large element of people in this region have desired.

The purchase price was $11,000,000. Seven other bids had been received by the trustees.

Under Mr. Nelson's will his entire estate is to be used for an art foundation for the people of Kansas City. The statement of the trustees merely said that the proposal "made by Irwin R. Kirkwood on behalf of himself and associates is accepted."

"The price is $11,000,000, the purchaser assuming all current liabilities," the statement said. "The $11,000,000 is to be paid as follows: $500,000 deposited with offer; $2,000,000 on transfer of properties, and $8,500,000 at 5 per cent, payable not less than $675,000 per year in quarterly payments, said $675,000 to include interest, all secured by mortgage on the property."

Broker's Wife with 3 Sons Asks for Larger Alimony

Mrs. Amella Moore Mull of Los Angeles yesterday petitioned Superior Judge Oscar Hebel for an increase in alimony from her former husband, Lawrence Moore, a stock broker, living at the Edgewater Beach hotel. She declared that $200 a month was not enough to support three sons. Judge Hebel said he would enter a final ruling in the case Sept. 21.

Simplicity

more Certain Service and Longer Life

The NU-WAY OIL BURNER is SIMPLE

If you want the convenience of an oil burner and the comfort and health that accompany the even heat maintained by a perfectly functioning burner—

Then let's get down to the facts you want to know about an oil burner for your home. There are four fundamental laws that must not be violated if the combustion of oil is to be perfect.

- ① The oil must be broken up into fine particles—it must be atomized, not vaporized.
- ② This atomized oil must be mixed with sufficient air—enough air to supply the necessary amount of oxygen for perfect combustion.

- ③ This mixture of atomized oil and air must be burned in suspension.

- ④ It must burn in reflected heat—heat reflected from the fire-brick lining of your heating plant fire-pot.

Nu-way is one of the few burners in which are incorporated these four necessary, fundamental laws of oil combustion.

Five Great Features

1. Simplicity The Nu-way has fewer parts than other burners observing the four laws of combustion. Every step towards simplification in any mechanical device means a step towards greater dependence in service, surer automatic control, longer life. The Nu-way has no diaphragms, no intricate working parts, and the fewest possible number of parts.

2. Quietness By reason of its simplicity, the Nu-way Oil Burner is the quietest burner made that burns oil by the four fundamental laws of oil combustion. The mechanism is silent. The only sound is that of the blazing oil in the brick lined fire-pot.

3. No Vibration Vibration means wear. The Nu-way Oil Burner runs without vibration. A penny stood on edge on the mechanism will remain there indefinitely, so free is the burner from vibration.

4. Perfectly Timed Ignition When the thermostat automatically starts the Nu-way Oil Burner, two things happen in perfectly timed sequence. First, the automatic ignition system is turned on and is waiting for the flow of air and atomized oil. This is the only method that insures correct lighting at all times. This timing is as important on your oil burner as on your motor car. This means positive ignition and eliminates the expense of a continuous gas pilot light.

5. Protective Devices Nu-way has two outstanding protective devices—features that prevent harm to your home should anything go wrong with your fire or burner. In the smoke pipe there is a combustion device that, should anything interfere with the fire in the heating plant, will shut off the burner at once. This means that no oil can be introduced into your heating plant without burning. There is also another protective device that makes it impossible for oil to flow upon the basement floor.

Nu-way Accessories Made by Nationally Famous Firms

Nu-way engineers went to authoritative sources for the special accessories on the Nu-way Oil Burner. When you buy a Nu-way you buy a burner with a multiple reputation.

Honeywell Heating Specialty Company of Wabash, Indiana, make the automatic controls. The ignition

De Luxe Finish

At increased cost the purchaser of a Nu-way may choose a porcelain enamel burner, with nickel and brass parts especially polished, in Dutch blue or ivory. A Nu-way with the De Luxe finish really makes it possible for you to furnish your basement luxuriously as you like, without one jarring note.

A Size for Your Home

There are four sizes of Nu-way Oil Burners. This enables you to select a burner of the right capacity. No need to use a burner with twelve room capacity in a five room bungalow. No need to try to force a burner with twelve room capacity to heat a fifty apartment building. No other burner of this type has the range of sizes offered by Nu-way.

Every Nu-way Tested by Actual Use

In the Nu-way testing room is a long row of furnaces of different types—hot air, steam, hot water. Not a Nu-way goes out until it has been connected with one of those furnaces and has functioned perfectly—absolutely automatically controlled by the safety device and the thermostat that would be placed in your home to start and stop the burner.

See the Nu-way

Visit the Nu-way dealer nearest you. Learn, from looking over this burner, why it will give you the most dependable service, at smallest upkeep, over the greatest number of years. See how easily it can be installed—just a few hours' work in your basement. No part of the burner inside your furnace. Investigate. Send coupon for literature. Be right in your selection of an oil burner. Buy Nu-way. You will if you know the burner. You owe it to yourself—and to your family—to know. Liberal financing plan—pay as you enjoy your Nu-way. NU-WAY an Automatic OIL BURNER

Dealers Approve The rapidity with which Nu-way is gaining a closely-knit national distribution is due to the dealers' quick foresight into the slight amount of service they will have to render Nu-way owners. No profit for a dealer in constant service to a complicated burner. No satisfaction to owners either. Every day more and more dealers, experienced in oil burning, inquire about a Nu-way franchise for their territories.

THE MARCH OF THE MUTILATED.

Paris has seen the march of the mutilated in protest against the proposed settlement with the United States. We do not regard it as a spontaneous expression from maimed victims of the war, but as a demonstration promoted by perfectly comfortable French millionaires who do not want to be taxed to pay back borrowed money and who hide behind the wounded as they did during the war.

The original plans for the march were modified to take out many of the proposed insults and offenses. The mutilated marched in silence and a wreath was laid at the statue of Washington and at the memorial to American volunteers who died in French service. The newspapers carried the insults which had been taken off the banners of the marchers. Criticism is not attached to the wounded. They have suffered. They paid heavily in the defense of their country. They may be bitter and they may be unjust. The promoters who hide behind them did a mean thing.

They insulted every marker which shows where an American died in France to keep France from being taken by the Germans. They have aroused in America a new bitterness and disgust. America could have a march of the mutilated and they could ask what was it for. The French victims are helped to carry their burden by the knowledge that their country was saved. The American victims see little but the failure of high ambitions. The American dead are buried in a land which does not honor them. The French say they gave blood and America gave dollars, which now it wants returned. The French say they held the line in our war, and having paid for us in men, are now required to pay us in money.

France is unfortunate. It permits its spokesmen to make enemies of its friends. It makes foolish wars and foolish speeches. No long ago it needed friends. It may again. Another generation of Americans may forget the offenses to the United States, but it is unwise to charge history with the record of them and then turn to forgetfulness. We have forgotten the trickery of Versailles and that Franklin was forced to break a pledge and make a separate peace with Great Britain. We have forgotten Citizen Genet and the indignation of Washington. We have forgotten Jackson's "I know those French. They'll pay if you make them." We have forgotten Napoleon III. In Mexico. Another time we may remember that it is more dangerous to do a favor than an injury and that it is less unpleasant to collect indemnities from an enemy than your own money from an ally.

THE LAND OF COTTON (MATHER).

Virginia seems to have far distanced Indiana in manhandling its citizens with the dry law. All its peace officers are prohibition enforcement agents permitted by the courts to get evidence any way they can, without regard for constitutional rights, and when they get it and a conviction they are given a reward of from $5 to $50.

The system is nicely calculated to bring out all the most amiable qualities of dragoning. Homes may be invaded, transportation stopped, and citizens searched as if they were suspects in an enemy country or the subjects of a surly mild dictator. It is pretty fair business for the snipers who took $212,000 last year in rewards, fees, commissions, etc. Virginia, of all states. The home of Washington and Patrick Henry. "Give them liquor and we'll give you life." The home of Thomas Jefferson. Once it fought to keep some of its inhabitants in servitude. Now it votes to put all its citizens under the fugitive slave law. Massachusetts has taken Jefferson away from it and given it Cotton Mather.

NO PLACE FOR A LADY.

We seem to handle things differently in various parts of the country, which is probably no more than natural. When Joyce Hawley was a distinguished citizen of New York she entertained a sophisticated party, thrown by a theatrical producer, by taking a bath in a tub of champagne and didn't even catch a cold. The producer got into trouble for saying that it was not champagne. If it wasn't had to be pinched for deceiving the lady, or the crowd, or the law, or something. New York objects to ordering champagne and getting colder.

When Miss Hawley came to Chicago she filled an automobile with herself and obliged some motorcycle cops to chase her down the boulevard. For that and for telling the cops she would kick them in the face the law gets her.

Is it possible that Chicago does not know how to treat a lady?

FORT ARMISTEAD.

The government will open bids July 29 for the sale of Fort Armistead and its 43 acres at the mouth of the Palisades river at Hawkins Point, Md. The Tribune has been in agreement with the policy of selling government military land for which need is gone and using the money to carry on the troops properly. In general, that is a thing to do, but it would be a pity to have the government destroy anything of historic value.

The United States needs the preservation of everything possible where its history has touched. It is a pity that it is not.

vivid by the visible evidences. It is not a congregation of people who came together yesterday, but one whose people have a past in common richly endowed by the lives and achievements of their ancestors. As they understand, appreciate, and revere this past they have something indestructible in common.

Physical evidences of this are invaluable. In them the dead live. America is young in the sight of other continents, but it is gathering its centuries. It is American habit to tear down and build. That means progress, but it should not mean heedless destruction.

Fort Armistead was named for the defender who kept the British out of Baltimore after they had taken Washington. The defense of Fort McHenry produced the "Star Spangled Banner." Anything in that association of ideas ought, it seems to us, to be preserved.

ELECTRIFICATION BY CO-OPERATION.

Mayor Dever and his cabinet and the members of the city council are commencing to consider seriously the question of railroad electrification. Four hearings have been arranged—July 19, 20, 21, and 22—at which members of a joint subcommittee of the council will hear the advisory opinions of men representative of the city government and of the railroad administration.

Should these hearings turn out to be the preliminary steps toward actual electrification, those four days in July will go down in Chicago history as dates to be marked in red. In requesting the presence and the advice of William R. Dawes, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, the aldermen have shown wisdom and a desire to start the movement in the right direction. As Ald. Kaind stated, a program adopted over the protests of the railroads will result only in a fruitless bickering of many years' duration. The railroads must assent and co-operate. So also must Chicago business, and this is represented by Mr. Dawes and the association of commerce. Without the backing of those interests, the haulage of whose freight furnishes the roads their chief occupation and income, no plan for electrification, no matter how technically perfect it might be, could hope to succeed.

It is inevitable that electrification come. Any day who opened the colorless section of last Sunday's Tribune and saw there the "before and after" photographs of the Grand Central district in New York and the Broad street district in Philadelphia must certainly have been convinced. The railroads running in and out of Chicago must electrify. The question is only one of ways and means, of compromise and co-operation. "The city council is proceeding wisely by taking these factors into foremost consideration."

MOTORS AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

The decision of the authorities of the state university to forbid the use by students of automobiles, except in cases of proved necessity, ought to have the support of parents and of public opinion.

We are quite willing to recognize that the automobile has become a factor of our normal lives, a valuable utensil and a source of wholesome pleasure. But it is not yet a necessity and it is a temptation from which experience has plentifully shown we would do well to protect our youth. The university, after all, is not a country club but a public institution for inculcating the higher knowledge and for the intellectual training of prospective citizens. While their object is not primarily to have a good time according to the viewpoint and interests of adolescence or youth, but to study and train themselves for useful living. That is why over $5,000,000 a year of the public funds are devoted to maintaining the university. The automobile offers preoccupations and distractions not very compatible with the purposes of the university, and the judgment of the authorities is well founded on facts. It has been under consideration for several years and has not been reached without much debate and deliberation.

A WORLD COURT AND A PARISH PROBLEM.

A question recently submitted to the league court illustrates the doctrinaire character of some of the experiments involved in the league system. The dispute, in brief, is whether the international labor organization of the league is authorized to propose legislation which in order to protect certain classes of labor also regulates incidentally the same work when performed by employers. Or in the concrete is a master baker subject to the same regulations as a noted employee baker, that is, may he work overtime contrary to such regulation?

We do not know how the august tribunal to which we have just given our adhesion is going to answer that question, but we think the issue itself illustrates the folly of trying to regulate by a general international law subjects which cannot be justly or sensibly treated save with respect to local conditions. We in America are not very seriously concerned in whether the Paris bakeshop keeper shall be permitted to work at night or not, but we think it is nonsense to prohibit him by international rule in the name of some assumed interest of international labor. He does interest of international rule in the name of some assumed interest of international labor. He does interest of international rule in the name of some assumed interest of international labor.

Editorial of the Day

PLUS SI FOR TAXI
(St. Paul Pioneer Press.)

For a fascinating calculation to press an otherwise dull summer evening hour, figure with precision just how devoted Congressman Upshaw, the Anti-Salooner, is to the crusade to which he has dedicated his energies and his eloquence. It seems that M. G. Kessler, the league speakers' bureau head, wished Mr. Upshaw to make addresses at a pair of Sabbath meetings not far from the capitol. The other speakers were appearing free, but Mr. Upshaw opened negotiations with a mention of $15. Mr. Kessler demurred. Mr. Upshaw bargained. He didn't talk extensively of his devotion to the cause. He talked of checks. Mr. Kessler thought Mr. Upshaw asked for too many. Mr. Upshaw stressed a deplorable personal scarcity of funds, and dwelt upon the proximity of expensive Christmas. They compromised at $25, plus $1 for taxi, as the price of Mr. Upshaw's speech on "America's Greatest Battle."

Mr. Upshaw's valuation of his speech was $75. Was it out of devotion to the great cause that he consented to accept $25 (plus $1 for taxi)? Simple process of subtraction yields an interesting result. Whatever be one's confidence in the answer, it is evident that though devotion to a great cause is exalting to many, to the driest of congressmen $25 (plus $1 for taxi) is $25 (plus $1 for taxi).

HEART SYMPTOMS.

ARE there any signs which should suggest that a man is suffering from heart disease at a time when he can see the rocks and steer around them? Dr. Calvin Smith answers this affirmatively. Among these he gives intermittent pulse. This means an extra-beat or irregularity of heart action, either as to force or rhythm, as shown by the pulse. Another is improper response to exercise. If a person will count his pulse and then jump rope, or otherwise exercise violently for a few seconds, his pulse will increase twenty beats or over. If his heart is reasonably near normal the pulse rate will be back at normal in two minutes. If it is not, it is on the way toward the scrap heap. It will still be running fast at the end of the two minute rest period. In a few cases a disordered heart will be slower at the end of a two minute rest period than it was before the exercise began.

Another sign commonly goes by the name of acute indigestion. In this condition there is a feeling of distention of the stomach, with a desire to belch. The distended stomach is said to exert a feeling of depression around the heart, with some irregularity of the pulse. These symptoms are relieved by belching.

Another symptom is "very short wind." A little exertion causes breathlessness. A sign of even more importance is pain, or a feeling of oppression in the heart—a slight anguish which comes on as a result of exertion. None of these signs necessarily mean heart disease present, or in prospect. All of them may be caused by other things. Some of which are trivial. They are merely sounds which should arouse suspicions and which call for physical examination.

But the man of the market place should not put up with a superficial examination. He should insist upon thoroughness. The reaction of the heart to exercise should be studied. There is no murmurs when the heart is listened to as the patient sits quietly. But how about murmurs after violent exertion? What is the size of the heart?

CEMETERY LOTS FOR SALE.

Chicago, July 9.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I am thinking of selling four cemetery lots which I own. Do I have to get the cemetery association to make new deeds to the purchaser, or should I just notify them that I have sold the lots. I would like to give the purchaser a new deed not showing the amount I paid for them. D. W.

We see no reason why you should not use a form like that used for ordinary real estate conveyances but we advise you to give your inquiry to the officials of the cemetery association, since the matter might be controlled by its rules.

Chicago, July 10.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—Recently a motorcycle collided with my car on my right side of the road. The young man sitting in the side seat had his leg broken. He is a minor and his parents threaten to sue me. The driver of the motorcycle knew.

ROARING RIVER, Va.—Gen. McClellan fought a battle yesterday at Rich Mountain, two miles east of this place, where the enemy, numbering about 2,000, under command of Col. Pegram, were strongly entrenched. Gen. Rosecrans with the 8th, 10th and 11th Indiana and the 19th Ohio, made a hard march to the enemy's position, cutting his road through the woods. A desperate fight immediately followed, resulting in the precipitate retreat of the rebels, who left behind six cannon and all their camp equipment.

WASHINGTON.—Gen. McClellan's dispatch announcing his victory over the great rebel force, "Happy McClellan," says the war party. "Being out of reach of Gen. Scott's telegrams, see what he has done. We expect to hear of Gen. Patterson's victory tomorrow. It is an event that cannot be put off."

If it shows organic trouble on the horizon there should be such change in habits as may be necessary for continued health. This may mean more exercise, and of a systematic kind. It may mean eating less, or eating differently. It may mean less fatigue—or more. It may mean less tobacco or other drugs or stimulants. It does not mean the taking of any kind of tonic or heart medicine.

1. Yes. Statistics available through health departments and census departments are reliable as to European, North America, and the British colonies in the South Pacific. 2. REMOVES WALL BRACKETS.

Chicago, July 9.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I have a bungalow from a carpenter and general contractor who builds houses and lives in them until they are sold. My bungalow was occupied for only a short time. Did this man have the right to remove the brackets and curtain rods when he moved out, thus leaving the place unfinished? I was supposed to be buying a completely finished house. R. O. F.

Depends on how they were fastened to the walls. In general he is not entitled to remove anything which was fastened in such a way that the removal will leave conspicuous marks.

ELMER E.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL began tearing down its old Randolph street station yesterday. A new station will be a lovely thing for the commuters, but we hate to see such a wonderful historical building as the old station vanish from sight. Each year, 1870, when Father Marquette and his hardy French voyageurs first landed on the wild sand dunes of what is now Chicago. Knowing that he would remain all winter, Father Marquette erected the building, which afterwards passed into the hands of the Illinois Central and became its Randolph street depot.

It was many times attacked by the fierce red man, and here the Illinois Indians first took refuge when pursued by their remorseless enemies, the Sioux and the Comanches. The Sacs and Foxes could not go into the station because they didn't have commutation tickets, and the noble Illinois might have remained there for years in safety but they said they couldn't stand the smell of chewing gum and they got their eyes full of cinders, so they beat it out to Starved Rock, where they got it in the neck.

TRUE AMERICANISM AGAINST DECADENCE.

Chicago, July 8.—The comment appearing in your paper in relation to the sentiment expressed by Decatur serves the good purpose at least of giving thought again to what is true Americanism. In its final analysis, as distinguished from the patriotism of our peoples.

The spirit of American development, as handed down through the revolution, is fully expressed in the Declaration of Independence. No more vital ideal was ever offered to humanity than is expressed in the words, "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." Now this is the spirit, and the constitution is the body through which this is expressed. If at all, the preamble to the constitution reads in part, "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice—and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and posterity," and by these words confirm all the good that the Declaration of Independence sought to declare for those then living, and those to come, under the protection of these United States.

A thorough study of the foregoing will fail to disclose even the slightest recognition of the duty of the people to uphold a government in the wrong, unless it be that the American people, who are the government, being citizens, are not subjects, agree to bind themselves knowingly to wrong, therefore injustice, toward others also endowed by their Creator with those inalienable rights, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Such an attitude would overthrow the government thus established to secure justice to all. This includes our enemies, as well as friends, for the United States is a land for all people, equally in law and in peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times, under all circumstances."

True Americanism, then, cannot support Decatur's sentiment.

25 SELECTED TO AID DRIVE FOR WIDER HIGHWAYS

President Anton J. Cermak of the county board yesterday named twenty-five members on the special county committee charged with pushing through road widening plans and recommending the bond issue scheme to finance relief work on the main highways entering Chicago.

Maj. George A. Quinlan, superintendent of county highways, heads the list, which includes Daniel H. Burnham, president of the Chicago Regional Planning association; Robert Kingery, secretary of the association; Elmer Stevens of the Chicago Association of Commerce; Eugene S. Taylor of the Chicago Plan commission; John Dill Robertson, president of the west parks commission; Col. W. C. Edens, president of the Illinois Highway Improvement association, Frank T. Sheets, chief engineer of the Illinois department of highways; John J. Sloan, president of board of local improvements; Frank J. Wilson, chairman of the county roads and bridges committee, and representatives of motor clubs, press, and civic bodies.

Told to Study Plans.

Mr. Cermak instructed the committee to study financing plans in the hands of the Chicago Association of Commerce and engineering plans being prepared by engineers of the regional planning association, to correlate both divisions of the campaign and report to the board with recommendations at the earliest possible moment.

It is believed that this recommendation will be returned the last week in July and that the proposed $15,000,000 bond issue will be put to a vote in November.

The second division includes a general program of pavement widening to 40 feet and the building of new city entrance roads in 1927. The third division proposes an elaborate system of boulevards and fast traffic roads to be built in future years in the Chicago area and to connect with the proposed superhighways planned in adjoining states and counties.

Plan Roads to Milwaukee.

Another important cooperative road building plan will be completed under the direction of the Regional Planning association, July 29, when Wisconsin highway officials and Illinois authorities are brought together to consider a new superhighway to connect Chicago and Milwaukee on a line west of Sheridan road. The first meeting on this proposal was held in Kenosha recently, with J. T. Donaghey, chief engineer of the Wisconsin highway department, and Frank Sheets, chief of the Illinois department, as the principals.

RIVER FOREST RECORD SEIZED IN SPEED QUIZ

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Grand jury action toward wiping out the highway speed trap evil and alleged official graft in more than a dozen Cook county villages drew a long step nearer yesterday when 400 more state's attorney questionnaires were dispatched to motorists who have been put through the justice mills of the various towns. At the same time State's Attorney Crowe seized police and court records of River Forest, and village officials of Markham appeared to answer subpoenas for their books.

Markham records proved almost as unique as the law enforcement system which employs a chief of police, "top" sergeant, three additional officers, and a hard working police magistrate in the village south of Chicago, which has been incorporated only three months and holds little more than the police station and subdivision lots for sale, according to Charles J. Mueller, assistant state's attorney in charge of the general investigation.

Everything Agrees.

Justice of the Peace G. J. Liesenfelt and one police officer of the village appeared with 54 arrest slips and a loose leaf docket book which, they said, had just been filled out by Chief of Police Morley of Markham.

The loose-leaf records correspond perfectly with notations made on the various slips alleging the fines, fees, and court costs which have been assessed in each case. The costs, said the prosecutor, invariably are reported at $7 and the fines run all the way from $3 to $43. In cases where a cash bond was required and forfeited, Mueller pointed out that the same amount of court costs and fees are shown on the tickets, although the legal cost is but $2.

Markham representatives were instructed to return again today with all other village records pertaining to traffic violations. In the meantime questionnaires will be mailed to all of the names shown on the slips and docket and a big budget of voluntary complaints from motorists who have been arrested along Western avenue and other main roads bordering the subdivision will be checked to see whether or not these victims have been entered on the books.

25 Miles on Roosevelt Road.

The village council of Forest Park, one of the suburban towns named in the speed trap quiz, last night passed resolutions extending a welcome to motorists and requesting the chief of police to reiterate his previous commands to the police force.

These commands, according to the resolution, permit a speed of 25 miles an hour on Roosevelt road through the village, 20 miles an hour on the closely built up residential streets, and 15 miles an hour on Madison street between Des Plaines and Harlem avenues. Motorcycle officers are also to give the motorists the benefit of the doubt whenever there is a doubt.

WACKER PRAISES CITY FOR RIVER STRAIGHTENING

Chicago's destiny as the first city in the world is assured if it retains the fine public spirit shown in the recent river straightening agreement, according to Charles H. Wacker, chairman of the Chicago Plan commission.

In a message of congratulations and thanks to those who brought it about, sent last night from Lake Geneva, Wis., where he is visiting, Mr. Wacker declared the achievement to be of the highest significance to the city's future.

"It proves conclusively what can be accomplished through public spirited cooperation," the telegram stated. "It demonstrates that no obstacle to the development of Chicago is too great to be overcome." The contract ordinance between the city and seven railroads for the $3,900,000 project, which will remove the kink in the river from Polk to 15th streets, was adopted by the council last Friday. Work will probably start early this fall.

AUTO KILLS BOY AS HE CHASES BALL IN STREET

Two Deaths Raise 1926
Motor Toll to 419.

Darting into the street in front of the Cubs park after a baseball, 12-year-old Attilio Caprioli, 508 North Franklin street, was knocked down by an automobile yesterday afternoon and fatally injured. An aged man died of injuries received in another automobile accident. The 1926 county motor toll was raised to 419 by the two deaths.

Mrs. Grace Miller, 38 years old, 332 Irving Park boulevard, driver of the automobile which struck the Caprioli boy, said she was driving slowly and that the accident was unavoidable. She was not held.

Aged Man Is Victim.

John Wencieskie, 81 years old, 4826 South Ashland avenue, died in the county hospital of internal injuries received when he was struck by an automobile at 48th street and Ashland avenue. Joseph Hatton, 156 West Jackson boulevard, driver of the automobile, was not held after witnesses told police that Wencieskie had walked into the side of the car.

Two Chicagoans were killed in accidents outside the county. Henry Shoemaker Sr., 60 years old, 7336 Marquette avenue, was instantly killed in a collision on the Dunes highway near Valparaiso, Ind. Harold Johnson died in a Benton Harbor, Mich., hospital of injuries received in an accident Saturday afternoon.

Truck Derails Street Car.

Two children were injured and a score of street car passengers were shaken up when a ten-ton truck loaded with sand crashed into a street car at Clark and Chestnut streets and knocked it off the track. Mabel Bowman, 12 years old, 853 North Clark street, and her 4-year-old brother, Samuel, playing at a curb nearby, were knocked down by the street car and narrowly escaped death.

George C. Smith, 3106 Cottage Grove avenue, colored, was named in a true bill reported today by the grand jury charging him with manslaughter. Smith was the driver of an automobile which collided with a car in which Charles Mickelberry Jr., son of the sausage manufacturer, was riding, causing young Mickelberry's death.

POLICE BULLETS WOUND PROWLER; CONDITION GRAVE

Two policemen, one two weeks on the force, the other a month, last night shot and probably fatally wounded a man whom they said had been attempting to enter a building at 433 Belden avenue.

The man, who said he was Edward S. Walters, a switchman, 423 Belden avenue, was rushed to the Grant hospital, where an operation was performed in an effort to save his life.

The policemen, Samuel Suhajda and John Casey, asserted they had ordered Walters to halt when they surprised him at the building, but that he began to run. Suhajda then drew his revolver and fired three times, the bullets piercing Walters' abdomen.

DANISH FARMERS PAID IN RATIO TO PURITY OF MILK

Lowden Continues Investigations.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 12.—Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, was the guest of honor today at a luncheon given by the Copenhagen American club at the Royal Danish Yacht club. For the first time ladies were the guests of the American club, Mrs. Lowden, Miss Lowden, and Miss Posselt being guests of honor. The former governor and his family were welcomed by Ernest Berg, president of the club, and Mr. Wyle, American charge d'affaires at Copenhagen. Mr. Lowden and The Tribune correspondent, accompanied by Harry Sorenson, American commercial attaché at Copenhagen, will motor tomorrow to Fyen to visit the creameries, bacon factories, and packing plants there, all run on cooperative principles. Then the automobile trip will be continued to Hamburg.

One striking feature of the cooperative movement discussed today was how cooperative marketing benefits the consumer by assuring a high standard of quality. For instance, farmers who turn milk into the creameries are paid in proportion to high butter fat and low bacterial count. Thus, the farmer who supplies milk with low butter content or which shows a high bacterial count is penalized, giving him a big inducement to improve his product. Similarly, in connection with the cooperative bacon factories, if the farmer turns in inferior hogs, breeding experts are sent to his farm and measures are taken to improve his stock.

DIES AS WALLS CAVE IN.

The jolting of passing trucks that caused the loose sand walls to cave in caused the death of Frank Bisanda, 35 years old, 2147 West Congress street, yesterday in the bottom of a twelve-foot pit he was digging at 17th and Canal streets.

FIRST OF TERROR TRIALS STARTED IN ELLER'S COURT

The first of the cases against officials of trade associations which, backed by former labor terrorists, attempted to force dealers to join their organizations, was started to trial yesterday before Judge Emanuel Eller in the Criminal court.

Maxie Eisen, business agent, Sam Solomon, president, Max Grinat, secretary, and Nathan Tucker, treasurer, of the Chicago Retail Fish Dealers' association, are the defendants in a charge of conspiracy to boycott through window smashing and other terrorist methods.

The indictment charges them with harassing fish dealers who refused to join their association and sell fish at the price fixed by the organization.

ON THE TRAIL OF TREASURE

When every
an artist

IN the spacious medieval period the art of the studio and the craftsmanship of forge and workbench met on a common footing. Benvenuto Cellini, Albrecht Durer, even the great Leonardo himself, turned from palette and brush to carve, with loving care, a choir-stall; to color a stained-glass window; to forge a distinctive pair of andirons. Their delicate skill evolved masterpieces of exquisite grace and simplicity.

The genius of the artisans of that age is reflected in full measure in the extensive showing of Hoops fireplace accessories. Dignified beauty characterizes their creation, a beauty and symmetry of practical ornamentation which adds charm and comfort to any fireplace they so appropriately grace.

"A light, quick!" cried Bickerson hoarsely.

From Ralph's direction came the rattle of a matchbox, a light spluttered and flared. As if in answer to his cry, the electric lights suddenly blazed up, momentarily blinding them.

"Who did that?" and then: "Look!" demanded the detective and gaped in horror at the sight.

Maurice Tarn lay huddled in his chair, his head thrown back.

"Dead!" breathed Hallam. "Killed while we were here!"

He heard the detective's cry and saw him glare past him.

"What—" he began, and then he saw:

Crouched in the farther corner of the room was a whitefaced girl. Her dress was in disorder, her white blouse was torn at the shoulder; across her face was a red smear of blood.

It was Elsa Marlowe!

"The Menace of Soyoka," by Edgar Wallace, is a stirring, breath-taking mystery story with an ingenious plot in which are interwoven the activities of international dope smugglers—and a romantic love story.

Edgar Wallace, celebrated writer of mysteries, many of whose stories have appeared in The Daily News, presents this tale full of suspense, dramatic situations and creepy terror. Mystery, sacrifice, action and love lead you breathlessly to a most unexpected ending.

BRENNAN LAUDED BY ELKS, STARTS TOUR THIS WEEK

Hears Illinois Farmers Demanding Relief.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Scenes at George E. Brennan's senatorial headquarters in the Bismarck yesterday made one almost suspicious that he had been listed in "What to See in Chicago" for the benefit of visiting Elks.

Brother Elks from all parts of the country called on the Democratic leader to tell him that his anti-Voilested candidacy for United States senator is being watched with keen interest from Maine to California.

It all sounded good to Mr. Brennan, but his own self-interest made him confess that he gave his closest attention to visitors from near home—namely: Illinoisans. For instance, he spent an hour listening to Douglas Patton of Freeport, former minority leader of the Illinois house, and Supreme Court Justice Floyd E. Thompson relate how the farmers of Illinois are up in arms against the Coolidge administration just as much as the agrarians of Iowa and points west.

Starts Trip This Week.

Mr. Brennan is going out among the farmers and townsmen of the Illinois corn belt this week. Starting Thursday at Danville, ballfield of Uncle Joe Cannon, grand old man of the G. O. P., Brennan plans to spend the greater part of the next four weeks visiting downstate points.

Alone of all politicians in the country, Mr. Brennan was the subject of an article in the convention issues of the National Elk Horn. Under the title, "Brennan of Illinois," Editor Norman M. Vaughan said:

Deals with Big Issue.

"George E. Brennan, because of the stand he has taken on one of the big issues of the times, has become a national figure. In every state in the Union his campaign is being closely observed because its success or failure will mean very much to the nation."

"It would be hard to find a more delightful or courteous gentleman than Brennan. He is a man of much ability, who decides big things on a big scale. He is a self-made man who worked up from the bottom of the ladder. He has many friends throughout the United States."

N. A. T. TO OPEN PASSENGER PLANE SERVICE TO K. C.

Establishment of an airplane passenger service between Chicago and Kansas City within the next thirty days was announced yesterday by Lieut. Col. Paul Henderson, general manager of the National Air Transport, Inc., at a luncheon of the Advertising post of the American Legion at the Hotel Sherman.

The announcement came at the close of a meeting given over to the discussion of commercial aviation and Chicago's possibility of becoming a great air terminal.

A new all metal plane probably will be delivered here within the next week or ten days to inaugurate the service.

The plane will be powered with three engines and it will have a large cabin accommodating ten passengers. It probably will arrive in time to inaugurate Chicago's new municipal airport at 83d street and Cicero avenue. The plane will cost $45,000.

A tentative rate of fare of between $45 and $50 for the trip between here and Kansas City, which will take about five and one-half hours, has been decided upon.

The fare is based upon the railroad fare ($16.45), plus Pullman ($4.50), plus $5 an hour for every hour that the air schedule betters the train time. The plane probably will leave here at 4 a.m., reaching Kansas City at 12:30 p.m. Maj. Philip G. Kemp, chairman of Mayor Dever's aero commission, announced that the new municipal field probably would be ready for service with hangars within the next ten days.

$50,000 ASKED FOR LOST LOVE OF DRUG DEALER

Affections of former Alderman Samuel E. Rubin of Milwaukee, owner of a chain of drug stores in that city, were priced at $50,000 in a suit filed yesterday in the Circuit court by Mrs. Libby Rubin of Milwaukee against Mrs. Bertha Vinograd, 3901 Sunnyside avenue.

According to Attorney Irving G. Zazove, who filed a praecipe in the suit, the events that led to Mrs. Rubin's court action began several years ago when the Vinograd and Rubin families lived in Milwaukee. Mrs. Vinograd and Rubin were friendly at that time, it was charged.

Then, Vinograd died and Mrs. Vinograd collected $42,000 life insurance and moved to Chicago, according to the lawyer. Rubin began to make frequent visits to Chicago and finally, Mrs. Vinograd offered Mrs. Rubin $21,000, half the insurance, if she would give up her husband, it was charged.

Last May, Mrs. Rubin obtained a divorce and $20,000 alimony. Trust funds of $3,500 each were provided for two children, Ephraim, 13 years old, and Elma, 9 years old.

After the divorce, Mrs. Rubin charged, she discovered that a supposed receipt she had signed was in reality a document releasing Mrs. Vinograd from an allegation of having alienated Rubin's affections. Mrs. Rubin immediately started the suit for $50,000 for alienation of affections.

Bud Wins in That $250,000 Breach of Promise Suit

New York, July 12.—(AP)—The $250,000 breach of promise suit brought against H. C. [Bud] Fisher, cartoonist, by Ada Lucille Schields, was dismissed in County court today. Fisher's defense was that the complainant was already married to Ira B. Norton. A hearing is to be held tomorrow in Supreme court on Fisher's motion for a stay of judgment on the order granting the Countess De Beaumont, his second wife, $1,000 a month alimony and $10,000 counsel fees. The countess sued for separation, charging the cartoonist with cruelty.

DR. McCOLLUM on McCall Street

This distinguished authority on nutrition bears the credentials of known merit which McCall Street demands

RECOGNIZED by the scientific world as the nation's foremost authority on nutrition and food values, Doctor E. V. McCollum stands for known merit, indeed. From his quiet laboratory at Johns Hopkins University are coming some of the world's most important discoveries about food and its bearing on health.

One of the most important contributions in recent years to our knowledge of nutrition is the discovery by Dr. McCollum of the Fourth Vitamin. It is the lack of this vitamin which causes rickets, a disease that attacks the children of the wealthy as well as those of the poor.

Fortunate indeed are the families on McCall Street to have the frequent help and counsel of Dr. McCollum.

Once a month he contributes to McCall's a special article on matters of diet. Once a month he extends a helping hand to the women on McCall Street who are seeking scientific information about the food they serve their husbands and children.

Dr. McCollum is typical of the writers who address the McCall audience, an audience satisfied with nothing short of known merit. McCall's is rich in fiction, in fashions and in special articles of known merit. At the right is a partial list of the writers who conduct special departments in McCall's regularly, all writers who have achieved distinction in their chosen fields.

The readers of McCall's have neither the time nor the desire for things that are not worth while. Known merit must be in the books they read, the music they hear, the plays they see. Known merit must be in the rugs on their floors and the food in their pantries. Known merit must be in the materials that go to build their homes and in the household appliances that help to run them.

Study the advertising in McCall's Magazine. It is a dependable index to the McCall market. Goods of merit are advertised in McCall's because known merit is what the McCall market demands.

If you make an article of known merit or an article of merit that deserves to be known, you will find McCall Street quick to accept and endorse it. The McCall Company, 236-250 West 37th Street, New York. Chicago, Boston, San Francisco, Atlanta, Toronto.

DR. McCOLLUM, physiological chemist, was educated at the University of Kansas and Yale. From 1907 to 1917 he taught at the University of Wisconsin. In the latter year he came to Johns Hopkins where he is now head of the School of Hygiene and Public Health. During the war Doctor McCollum was a familiar figure in Washington. Some of the most important decisions affecting the food conservation program were arrived at only after consultation with him.

Known Merit

The high lights of the McCall Street market

THE people who live on McCall Street are quick to respond to authentic trends—in entertaining, social customs, education, fashions, home building, home decoration.

The dress, the hat, the shoe that is correct, is sure to be worn on McCall Street. The newest salad, the smart entree, is certain to be served on McCall Street. The home of charm, the modern decorative note, is everywhere evident on McCall Street. The people on McCall Street are just as style-minded in every phase of living as they are in the clothes they wear or the food they serve.

McCall Street has savoir faire. McCall Street knows merit when it sees it.

The families on McCall Street are of the well-salaried class which supplies the commissioned officers of our busy commercial and industrial armies.

Youth . . . Enterprise . . . Ambition . . . Good Taste . . . Growing Incomes!

These are the high lights of the McCall Street market.

Known Merit

To have merit and not be known may mean something in the future, but it means nothing at present. To be known but to be without merit is to be sliding from the present into the past.

But known merit is a thing of the immediate present. McCall's is a magazine of the immediate present. Its contributors are writers of known merit. Its advertisers offer goods of known merit, and its readers buy and consume goods of known merit.

Boxer Absolved of Blame for Foe's Death in Bout

Whittier, Cal., July 12.—(AP)—A coroner's jury in an inquest in the death of Gilbert Johnson, 19, who died from injuries received in a boxing exhibition here Thursday night, today absolved his opponent, Pat Patrick, of responsibility. Johnson's death was an unavoidable accident, caused by a cerebral hemorrhage, the jurors found.

Several days ago New York witnessed all sorts of disappointing events in what had been billed as one of the season's best shows.

Over 25,000 people showed up for the Latino-Levine championship bout. Only 15,000 were there. It was a charity affair, and prominent New Yorkers were expected. Their seats were empty. The spectators anticipated a snappy

Market for hogs weakened slightly after a generally steady opening yesterday, finishing at the low time of the day. Buyers, however, were unable to make any substantial cut in quotations, despite the 25,000 expected for today. Estimates placed the holdovers at 11,000. Fancy 150@200 lb averages reached $14.25, the day's top, with 220 lb butchers up to $14.00, 262 lb averages at $12.55 and 304 lb averages at $13.20. Smooth 300@400 lb sows, on the butcher order, brought $11.25@12.00 and heavy packers $10.50@11.00. Larger packers purchased conservatively in an effort to erase last Saturday's gain. General average price figured $12.95. Daily average prices during the corresponding week a year ago advanced from $13.50 Monday to $13.90 Thursday, the highest daily average from March, 1925, to May, 1926. The cattle market broke mostly 150 25c, under stress of the second largest receipts of the year at 25,000, with in-between and common grades indicating sharper losses on dull closing rounds. Marketward movement was immediately curtailed in an effort to check any demoralizing slump and advanced estimates placed today's supply at only 10,000, among the smallest of the year for Tuesday. Butcher stock ruled weak to unevenly lower. Calves shared in the decline, with bulls off 10¢, steers and feeders dull and lower. Several lots of fancy 150@175 lb steers reached $10.50, the top.

Sheep Receipts Larje.
The largest sheep receipts since last February at 25,000, precipitated lamb prices to new low levels for the season in a dull, unsatisfactory trade. Best sorted range lambs sold at $13.25 to city butchers, with bulk of the 41 carloads from the west at $14.00@14.25, against a peak of $15.20 early last month. Better grades of natives cleared at $13.50@13.75 and strong weight culls at $10.50@11.50. Matted sheep continued scarce and changed slightly. Light ewes brought $6.50@7.00 and heavy $4.50@5.50.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 25,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep, against 5,774 cattle, 20,141 hogs, and 12,771 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

New York, July 12.—(AP)—Sustained buying interest in leading railroad shares, vigorous rallies in several high priced industrial specialties and the establishment of a record high price by General Motors featured today's stock market which moved irregularly higher in the face of a heavy volume of profit taking. Trading continued active, with total sales running to 1,431,400 shares. Interest centered chiefly on the performance of General Motors, which advanced more than 3 points to 153 1/2, the best price at which the present shares have ever sold. Reports of continued business through the inventory season and expectations of favorable dividend developments accounted for the steady accumulation of the stock. The closing price of 153 1/2, represented a gain of 7 1/2 points on the day.

Rail Interest Switches.
Buying activities in the railroad group switched from the Van Sweringen issues, which have recently held first place in public favor, to other representative issues which were believed to be in line for higher dividends as the result of improved earnings.

Baltimore and Ohio moved up 1 1/2 points to 97 1/2, and Lehigh Valley about 2 points to 9 1/2, the highest price in more than 10 years. Southern Pacific reached a new top price for the year at 109 1/2, and gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded by Missouri Pacific common and preferred, Illinois Central, the Wheeling and Lake Erie issues, Lackawanna, Delaware and Hudson, Northern Pacific, and Chicago and Northwestern.

Nickel Plate, Erie, and Pere Marquette issues were heavy on fresh opposition to the revised merger plans for Chesapeake and Ohio stockholders.

Copper Scarcity Impends.
One of the most important trade developments of the day was a further advance in copper prices, coupled with indications of an impending scarcity of deliverable metal. As a result the copper shares moved up briskly under the leadership of American Smelting, which advanced 3 points to 135. Anaconda and Kennecott also were strong.

Large sales of agricultural machinery in the first half of the year led to renewed buying of the leading issues in this group. Case Threshing Machine rose more than 7 points to a new high above 135 and substantial gains were registered by International Harvester and Advance Rumely common and preferred. Independent strength was shown by All-American Cables, which jumped 1 1/2 points, and by Coca Cola, which rose 1 1/2 points to a new high for the year.

Weakness in Oils.
A sharp decline in oil prices, which was aided by the strength of General Motors.

A sharp decline in oil prices, which was aided by the strength of General Motors. The continued uncertainty over French and Belgian finances caused both of these currencies to slump to record low levels. French francs fell below 25 cents and Belgian plunged nearly 20 points to 14 1/2. Demand sterling held at $4.85 1/2. Considerable calling of loans brought about a heavy turnover in the money market, but the rate on call funds remained at 4 1/2 per cent all day. Time money rates were marked up slightly, ranging from 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 per cent.

Receipts, 10 cars and 810 coops. Eastern Kansas has an unusually large crop of early potatoes and prices have dropped sharply the last week due to heavy marketing. Chicago received 91 cars of potatoes from Kansas yesterday out of a total of 178 cars from all points. Demand is not large enough to absorb all the offerings with a decline as there were 400 cars of all kinds on track here yesterday, largely exceeding the demand. Prices here were off 35c per 100 lb. yesterday to $1.75 to $2.00. Sales of butter for futures delivery on the Chicago Mercantile exchange aggregated 28 cars and 810 coops. Prices follow:

WHEAT DROPS ON SALES INSPIRED BY U. S. REPORT

By CHARLES MICHAELS.

Local traders construed the government report on wheat as bearish and sold freely, and while there was aggressive commission house buying early it fell off later. The finish was within a fraction of the bottom of the deferred deliveries with net losses of 10 1/4¢, while July acted tight and lost only 1/4¢, closing at $1.28 1/4, or about 1/4¢ over September. December was $1.40 at the last. Outside markets were weaker than Chicago with Kansas City off 10 1/4¢, and Minneapolis 4 1/4¢.

Corn was strong throughout the day, the government report indicating a lower yield than expected, and the close was 10 1/4¢ higher, with July 75¢, September 77 1/2¢, and December 79 1/2¢. Oats were 1/4¢ lower to 1/2¢ higher, with July 37 1/2¢ and September 39 1/2¢, while rye was unchanged to 1/4¢ higher, with July 97 1/2¢ and September 100 1/4¢.

July Wheat Acts Tight

July wheat acted tight the greater part of the day and it gradually increased in premium over the September and a sharp trading, offerings being light. There was no pressure of cash grain despite arrivals of around 2,000 cars at the seaboard, leading southwestern markets, mills absorbing the offerings readily with premiums unchanged to 1/4¢ higher. Export demand continues slow, with no sales of consequence reported at the seaboard. Exporters are still covering old sales. Scarcity of nearby ocean room checks business.

Crop reports from the American northwest generally were unfavorable and those from Canada were somewhat less optimistic, with Crop Observer Bryant reporting black rust in southern Manitoba. Extent of the damage is regarded as depending on weather conditions. Local sentiment was bearish and there was persistent selling on the belief that harvesting rapidly progressing there would be a material increase in the movement to terminal markets and also a less aggressive milling demand. An increase of 1,333,000 bu in the visible supply was in excess of what the trade anticipated and the total is now 14,163,000 bu, against 12,830,000 bu last year.

Wheat traders are beginning to pay more attention to news from the Canadian northwest and a number of commission houses express the belief that the crop reports from that section will be the dominating influence in the market in the immediate future.

Profit Taking in Corn

A broadening in the outside trade helped to make an advance of 1/4¢ in corn over Saturday's close, but the finish was on a reaction due to profit taking and selling against offers. Crop comments from Illinois and Iowa were more favorable as the result of recent rains and hot weather. A decrease of 1,313,000 bu in the visible supply made the total 28,520,000 bu, against 10,646,000 bu last year. The spot basis here was steady to 1/4¢ higher.

Local Traders Were Fair Sellers of Oats

Local traders were fair sellers of oats in the southeast in wheat and the finish was well toward the low point, with a moderate trade. Government report attracted little attention. Selling of rye against purchases of corn to close spreads had a depressing effect on the former grain, but the undertone was not weak and offerings were readily absorbed.

SCARCITY OF GOOD HAY

Good western prairie hay and rye straw, also choice timothy and clover hay, and timothy and clover hay, were taken freely at full prices as offerings were light. One car new timothy received and of old there were 80 cars. Packing hay, 3 cars, and oat straw, 1 car. Prices follow:

CAPITULATIONS AND PRAISES LIFE OF J. W. WEEKS

Cabinet Officers to Attend Funeral.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 12.—(Special.)—Official Washington joined today in mourning the death of John W. Weeks, former secretary of war and one time United States senator from Massachusetts.

Immediately after being apprised of his death, which occurred early this morning at Lancaster, N. H., cabinet officers who knew him intimately during the time he was secretary of war under former President Harding and President Coolidge, issued statements honoring his memory and praising his patriotism and his ability as a public official. His death was due to angina pectoris.

Flags at Half Mast.
As a mark of respect to his memory, the flag was placed at half mast today and orders issued that flags at all military posts be displayed at half mast on the day of the funeral.

Secretary of War Davis, Postmaster General Harry New, and several other cabinet members plan to attend the funeral, which will be held at the Weeks home in West Newton, Mass. According to plans telephoned to the war department today, Mr. Weeks' body will be placed in a vault at West Newton temporarily, and transferred later to Arlington National cemetery here.

The lot to be used will be selected from a group specially set aside for the burial of graduates of the naval academy class of 1881, of which Mr. Weeks was a member.

Praised by New.

"Secretary Weeks was one of the most competent public officials I have ever known," Postmaster General New said in his tribute to his former colleague in the senate. "He was first a remarkable business man, and to his capacity for business was added an extraordinary capacity for dealing with questions of great importance." "I deeply mourn the death of ex-Secretary Weeks," said Secretary Kellogg. "He was one of the ablest and most broad-minded men with whom I have come in contact, and his death is a great loss to the country."

"The nation has lost one of its most loyal citizens," was the tribute paid by Secretary Davis. "The war department and the army have lost a man whom we honored as our leader and cherished as our friend."

FRAMED BY COMPANY.

The Chicago office of Hornblower & Weeks, brokers, of which Mr. Weeks was one of the founders, yesterday issued an appreciation of the former secretary of war.

"The entire Hornblower & Weeks organization," the statement said, "including the firm members and employees, feel deeply the personal loss that has come to all of us. In addition to the many other losses which he showed in all his endeavors during his wide and varied career as a teacher, naval officer, business man, and statesman, Mr. Weeks had more than the usual complement of those outstanding characteristics that endear one to all, a man of the highest integrity, generous, charitable, and kind hearted. His was the ideal life, patriotically devoted to his country, that he believed to be for the best interests of his country."

Mr. Weeks retired from the firm in 1915 before entering the United States senate.

BUSINESS WOMEN FLOCK TO THEIR BIG CONVENTION

Des Moines, Ia., July 12.—(AP)—A national convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women every two years instead of annually was proposed at the annual convention of the federation at this time here today, which was a preliminary to the convention opening tomorrow. The committee today was busy outlining the business to come before the convention.

Another proposal to be laid before the convention was for an increase in membership dues to $2 annually, to include a subscription to THE Independent Women, the organization's national magazine.

California, Florida, Louisiana and Kentucky already have started campaigns for the next national convention.
